PREFACE

In the literary construction of this book I have endeavored to use my best knowledge of the subject.

The material, in manuscript form, collected by my brother, C. C. Lord, I found to be in a disconnected shape, and in preparing it for publication, I have endeavored to preserve my brother's intention. Owing to the incompleteness of ancient records there may be mistakes in the lineage of some of the branches of the Lord family.

Whatever there is of merit in this book I want credited to my brother. Many thanks on my part are due the sons and daughters of Nathan Lord for the hearty support and encouragement given me in the pursuit of this enterprise, and also to the printer for his kindly courtesies to, and patience with, my inexperience in work of this kind.

CHAPTER I

HIS WILL

Nathan Lord, 1st, from the County of Kent, England, settled in Kittery, Me. In 1652 he signed a convention acknowledging the judicial authority of Massachusetts in Maine. December 16, 1652, he received his first grant of land in Kittery, sixty acres "at ye heathy marsh," a location now in the center of Eliot, Me. At present the Boston and Maine railroad passes over this grant at a point between Kittery and Eliot depots. Rev. John Heard Lord of Berwick, Me., is the authority quoted in respect to this grant. The records of a writing in Kittery, Me., December 18, 1652, run as follows: "Granted unto Nathan Lord his heirs and assigns forever by the selectmen of Kittery, sixty acres of upland and meadow at the Heathy Marsh with the timber on ye said land, bounded with ye marked trees on ye east and also on ye west with ye marked trees untill the said number of acres be completed." This is said to have been the first grant of land Nathan<sup>1</sup> Lord ever received. The land is said to have been located south of Sturgeon Creek in the present town of Eliot, Me. The Rev. Reuben Kimball, pastor of the first church in Kittery, Me., who was applied to by Melvin Lord for information concerning the early history of the Lords, reported under date of November 29, 1848, as the result of his examinations that "no church record in Kittery extends farther back than 1714 and that he knew of no person by the name of Lord either on the church records which commenced at that date, or now living in town," but that he had "examined the town records and found them to have commenced as early as 1650 and found mention made in several places in the ancient book, of Mr. Nathan Lord, in connection with grants of tracts of land which are not now included in that town, for all the territory now constituting the towns of Eliot, South Berwick, North Berwick and Berwick, reaching north to Lebanon was once called Kittery, the early records of all those towns being in Kittery. He adds "I find no Nathaniel Lord, but one Nathan Lord and if it should be of any service I will send you a copy of the first sentence in which his name is found bearing some resemblance to one or two others. It is under date of December 18, 1652, and is a record of the acts of the town at a public meeting the same day."

The following are dates of some of the transactions of Nathan Lord, 1st, in real estate in ancient Kittery: September 7, 1662, John Neal sold to Nathan Lord twenty-five acres of land and a house, on the northeast side of the Piscataqua river, one-half of the estate bought of Alexander Maxwell of York, by the said Neal and lying near Whites marsh. November 7, 1662, Nathan Lord, Senr. grantee by John Neale twenty-five acres and house and five acres marsh, near Whites marsh in Kittery.

July 7, 1669. Sturgeon Creek. Bounds settled between Nathan Lord and Nicholas Frost, by order of court; also between Richard Otis, and Nathan Lord, survivors of John Heard and Abraham Conley.

March 8, 1671-2. Abram Tilton conveys to Miles Thomson, Sr., and Israel Hodgdon, "all that tract of upland and meadow bought of Nathan Lord . . . forty acres lying at the east end of the heathy marsh and which was granted unto Reginald Jenkins by the town of Kittery." The meadow was formerly in the possession of Jenkins.

March 1, 1674. Abraham Conley in his will gives to Nathan Lord his son-in-law, all the land that Nicholas Frost holds of him, besides all the other land, upland or marsh, he has or ought to have at Sturgeon Creek, besides (excepting) that lot as granted to Francis Small.

June 28, 1678. Nathan Lord et ux. to Thomas Abbott and Jonathan Nason ten acres called Abraham Conley's marsh at Sturgeon Creek in Kittery. York Deed, B. III. Fol. 25. June 28, 1678. Nathan Lord et ux. to Thomas Abbot and Jonathan Nason, forty acres adjoining the ten acres of Conley marsh excepting Peter Withams lot. York Deeds, B. III. Fol. 26.

April 1, 1681. Nathan Lord, Sr., to Nathan Lord, Jr., all right, title, and interest in house and barn and three tracts of land bought of Abraham Conley of the town of Kittery.

May 29, 1682. Stephen Jenkins and Jabez Jenkins depose and say that there was a difference between Nathan Lord, Sr., and Nicholas Frost in regard to a brook running into Sturgeon Creek occasioning much trouble between said Lord and Frost, etc.

John Neal in his deed to Nathan<sup>1</sup> Lord, dated May 22, 1683, conveyed—all my right, and title to a parcel of land and house, containing about twenty-five acres more or less, lying and being upon the northeast side of Piscataqua river, being the one-half of a tract of land which I the said John Neal bought of Alexander Maxwell of the town of York. The said five and twenty acres of land being upon the north side of the said tract of land with five acres of marsh ground lying and being near a place commonly called by the name of Whites marsh. The consideration was £80.

March 26, 1686. The inventory of James Chadbourne, of Kittery, deceased, mentions "his house and land bought of Nathan Lord and joins to John Heard's farm at Sturgeon Creek."

March 14, 1709. Benjamin Lord, grantor, to John Croud, three acres, part of sixty acres granted to Nathan Lord by the Parish of Unity, in Berwick. This grant was in April, 1671.

August 11, 1712. Nathan Lord and Benjamin Lord grantors to Richard Lord, five acres near Whites marsh in Berwick. This conveyance included "all ye marsh and marsh ground that goes by ye name of Nathan Lord, Sen.,<sup>23</sup> Island."

March 30, 1713. Nathan Lord, grantor to John Cooper, Tobias Hanson and Moses Littlefield, his son-in-law, sixty-seven acres of land, sixty of which were granted to Nathan Lord by the town of Kittery, December 18, 1652, and seven granted to Abraham Conley, September 28, 1653, with other land in Kittery.

The administration on the estate of Nathan Lord was granted to Nathan Lord, December 24, 1697: inventory accepted (i. e., filed) January 3, 1697-8.

NATHAN LORD, 2D

TRANSACTIONS IN REAL ESTATE, PETITION AND WILL

In 1676, in company with his father, Nathan Lord, 2d, became a proprietor of seventy-seven acres of land at Old Fields. (See John Morrill.) The following illustrates some of the transactions of Nathan Lord, 2d. in real estate.

April 20, 1697. Nathan Lord grantee by Sylvanus Nock, eighteen acres near Rocky Hills in Berwick, adjoining land of grantee, John Plaisted, Zackariah Emery by gift from James Emery, Nock's father-in-law.

April 25, 1703. Nathan Lord, et. ux. to Benoni Hodgdon, in exchange; seven acres of land on Birch Point brook, where John Morrill formerly dwelt in Kittery.

May 27, 1708. Nathan Lord, Sen., et. ux. to Nathan Lord, one-half of homestead lot on the southside of highway to Birch Point in Kittery.

April 3, 1710. Nathan Lord, grantee, by John Hurd et. ux. two and one-half acres of meadow ground at Sturgeon Creek in Kittery.

May 23, 1721. Nathan Lord, grantee, by William Grant, et. al. eleven in all, 107 acres with five acres of marsh adjoining the bounds of Rocky Hills common and Job Emery's land in Berwick and Kittery.

Sylvanus Nock in his deed, May 6, 1697, conveyed to Nathan<sup>2</sup> Lord a tract of land bounded as follows:—

Southerly on the land of said Nathan Lord, westerly on the land of John Plaisted and on the land of Zacharial Emery, till you come to a small white oak northerly, which said white oak is marked with I. E. on the north side of the tree and S. W. on the south side and so to run on the north side by several marked trees of the same mark to an ash tree, and then to run south-east by several marked trees till you come to the Rocky hill to a white oak marked and then to run from that said white oak on a southwest line twenty rods and so to run to a marked tree which is the said Nathan Lord's bound mark.

1. He gives to his wife Martha one-half of his real estate, during her life time, and one-half of his personal estate in her own right.

2. To his son, Nathan, all the land on the south side of the way that leads to York, called the great field with the buildings thereon, excepting one acre next to Joseph Hodgdon's land by the brook, which is reserved for a burying ground, with the reservation that the spring in that field shall be common to the rest of the family.

3. To his son, William, all his interest in the land, that was his (Nathan's) brother Abrahams, formerly of Berwick, deceased, and after him, his cousin William, and on part of which Robert Kingat,<sup>2</sup> Sen., who married Abraham's widow, now lives, together with £5 good province bills.

4. To his son Richard, 20 acres of land at Piles Brook and £5, having done considerable for him before.

5. To his son, Samuel, 2½ acres of marsh at Sturgeon Creek, now in his improvement and also £5, together with all the land that lies to the southward of the brook that runs through the land he (Nathan<sup>2</sup>) bought of the Grants and is part of that tract: he had done considerable for him before.

6. To his son, John, all that land where he now lives and which he (Nathan<sup>2</sup>) bought of Sylvanus Nock, containing 25 acres; also a wood lot, being part of the land bought of the Grants and lying adjoining to his (John's) own land, which he bought of William Emery, reserving a right of way for his (Nathan's<sup>2</sup>) other sons to pass to and from the land in said tract, his (John's) paying £15 to the executors within one year.

7. To his son, Abraham, all the land on the west side of the way where he lives, with the buildings.

8. To his six sons, before named, all his right to the common and undivided land in Berwick.

9. To his daughters, Martha Chick, Judith Hambleton, Mary Emery, Sarah Roberts, and Ann Furbish, £20 each, and he also gives them one-half of his household goods in equal shares.

10. To his granddaughter, Elizabeth, the wife of Noah Emery, £5.

11. To the church in Berwick £20, to be laid out in a piece of plate for the communion table.

12. To his minister (the Rev. Jeremiah Wise,) a gold ring, as a token of remembrance.

Finally he appoints his sons, Nathan and Abraham, his executors, to whom he gives the remainder of his estate both real and personal.

Dated July 6, 1733.

The spring mentioned in the second clause of the above will is pointed out on the farm of the late Henry W. Lord of Old Fields, South Berwick, Me. The spot is near the junction of the highway running easterly and the Boston and Maine Railroad, being south of the highway and west of the railroad.

The record following illustrates the family relationship of Martha Everett, second wife of Nathan<sup>1</sup> Lord.

November 23, 1674. Nathan Lord and Martha Lord, daughter of Margery Nash, consented to a transfer of an estate at Spruce Creek by Thomas Witham to Rowland Williams, William Everett consenting also; all the three relinquishing their title and interest. Martha Lord was a daughter of Isaac and Margery Nash. William Everett is said to have married Margery, daughter of Thomas Witham. Margery (Witham) Everett, married (2), Isaac Nash, who has been called the father-in-law of Martha (Lord) Everett.

January 23, 1682. Martha Lord, wife of Nathan, is forty-two years old and deposes that when she was little, her mother, Margarett Everett had ten shillings of her and laid it out for six acres of land, which she bought of Reynold Jenkins, and which her husband, Nathan Lord, would not accept, and she gave him a steer instead and sold the land to Will Leighton.

The record following is an example of the business transactions of Martha Everett:—

March 4, 1684. Record. Martha Lord, et. ux. to William Leighton, quit claim of the land sold by her mother, Margery Everett, to Leighton. (See deposition of June 23, 1682.)

February 8, 1698-9. Nathan Lord estate of by Martha Lord admx. to Jos. Hammond, Sr., six acres more or less of meadow at Sturgeon Creek in Kittery.

February 1, 1704. Abraham Lord, John Cooper, William Frost, Thomas Downs, Tobias Hanson, Moses Littlefield, grantors to Martha Lord all rights to homestead land, and marshes, in Kittery. The grantors were sons, and sons-in-law of Nathan Lord, deceased.

May 6, 1704. Martha Lord, grantor, to Benjamin Lord, eighty acres on north side of Sturgeon Creek. A gift.

March 22, 1707. Martha Lord, Nathan Lord, Benjamin Lord, John Cooper, Tobias Hanson, William Frost, and Moses Littlefield, grantors, to William Lord, forty acres with house and barn adjoining said William Lord's land; also cattle and goods in Kittery. The transfer included one yoke of oxen, one cow, two heifers, two calves, five pounds worth of clothing and half a grindstone.

June 20, 1707. Benjamin Lord, grantor, to John Merrill, Jr., forty acres near Sturgeon Creek; also two acres adjoining in Kittery. Benjamin Lord, was a son of Martha Lord. The forty acres were a gift from his mother.

March 12, 1709. Martha Lord, grantor, to Benjamin Lord, a house and land with barn and orchard at Mt. Misery in Berwick; grantee to have three neat cattle, six sheep and a breeding sow; grantor to have the use of the dwelling house during life, enough land for a garden, the milk of a good new milch cow every summer, two apple trees of her own choice; grantee to pay grantor twenty bushels of merchantable Indian corn annually on or before January 1; two barrels of cider at cider time; £4 current money of the province annually on or before May 16; and a good cow at her decease, or the one to whom she bequeathed it. The parcel of fresh marsh at White's marsh and six acres of upland adjoining were included in the grant.

December 3, 1709. Benjamin Lord, grantor, to Andrew Neal, thirty acres in Kittery, gift of his mother.

March 14, 1708-9. Martha Lord to John Croad; quit claim to land sold by Benjamin Lord to John Croad.

August 11, 1712. Martha Lord and Benjamin Lord to Richard Lord, five acres near White's marsh in Berwick.

November 24, 1716. Martha Lord to Moses Spencer, twenty-seven acres recorded in Book VIII, 74.

CHAPTER III

ABRAHAM CONLEY

Abram Conley, said to have been from Kent, England, was the father of Judith, first wife of Nathan<sup>1</sup> Lord, and is said to have been in Kittery, Me., as early as 1637. September 28, 1653, he had a town grant of seven acres adjoining the sixty granted to Nathan<sup>1</sup> Lord. This is said to have been about the time of the marriage of Nathan Lord and Judith Conley.

The following transactions of Abraham Conley and others in relation to his estate illustrate his relationship to Nathan Lord 1st.

July 28, 1676. John Morrill, et. ux. to Abraham Conley, house and seven acres, part of Nicholas Hodgdon's former homestead; also seventy acres as by three town grants, lying together, all in Kittery. York Deeds. III. 18.

CONSIDERATION TRACT CALLED COOL HARBOR.

March 2, 1710. William Lord, grantor, to Nicholas Morrill, fourteen acres on south side of Sturgeon Creek, six on north side of Sturgeon Creek, in Kittery; the fourteen acres were granted by Kittery, to Abraham Conley.

June 24, 1669. The six acres in "ancient possession" of said Conley. (The "ancient possession" probably refers to the transaction of January 1st, 1638. Ed.)

March 1, 1674. Abraham Conley makes his will and gives Nathan and Abraham Lord, two sons of Nathan Lord, all his land at Sturgeon Creek "lett and disposed of" to Francis Small or the proceeds of the same, as Small might keep or break his bargain.

March 18, 1677-8. Inventory of Abraham Conley's estate, he having deceased, and Nathan Lord, being his "administrator contained" his farm at Sturgeon Creek, "the same being eighty acres more or less with the house and appurtenances," situated on the north side of the creek and appraised £55, 10s.

The following memoranda illustrate the title to an estate sold to Nathan Lord, 1st, and Nathan Lord, 2d, September 1, 1676 by Abraham Conley, Conley having acquired title to the property by John Morrill grantor.

August 24, 1668. John Morrill has a grant of forty acres in Kittery. September 16, 1668. John Morrill has a grant of ten acres in Kittery.

December 13, 1669. John Morrill has a grant of 20 acres in Kittery.

December 3, 1674. John Morrill has a grant of seven acres from Nicholas Hodgdon.

July 28, 1676. John Morrill conveyed seventy-seven acres to Abraham Conley. The estate conveyed in this transaction was bounded as follows:

On the south or thereabouts by land some time Peter Witham's, and now purchased and in the possession of Nicholas Hodgdon aforesaid, and on the west with others the lands of the said Nicholas Hodgdon aforesaid, and on the north, and northeast and by the northeast and north, or thereabouts by the lands of Olive Plaisted, widow, called Birch Point and partly by Birch Point brook and also bounded by several marked trees, at the laying out all which grants or tracts of land is now in the possession of him the said John Morrill.

September 27, 1673. James Emery deeded to Abraham Conley, "of Sturgeon Creek," a tract of land at Cool Harbor Point formerly in the possession of Anthony Emery, father of the grantor.

June 24, 1686. Humphrey Chadbourne and William Plaisted testify in regard to the "bounds of the late Abraham Conley's lands on the west side of his house at Sturgeon Creek."

January 1, 1638. John Vgrafue (or Vgrane or Ugrane) deeded to Abram Conley "one house or tenement with six acres of ground or land, part impaled also" a way twelve feet wide along by his poles up into the woods. The deed contained these words "which house the said Abram Conley now possethes."

September 1, 1676. Abraham Conley conveyed seventy-seven acres to Nathan Lord, Sen., and Nathan Lord, Jr.

April 1, 1681. Nathan Lord, Sr., conveys to Nathan Lord, Jr., all his right, title, and interest in the aforesaid seventy-seven acres.

Abraham<sup>2</sup> Lord in his own deed said:—Whereas, Abraham Conley sometime of Kittery in the province of Maine in New England, did by his last will and testament, bearing date, the first day of March, 1674, give and bequeath unto me, Abraham Lord, a certain legacy of land and marsh, lying and being on Sturgeon Creek, in said town and province, which said land and marsh my father, Nathan Lord, sold to Thomas Abbott and Jonathan Nason, deceased as may at large appear by my said father's deed, under his hand, and together with my Mother Lord's consent, as doth also appear by a deed under both their hands, bearing date, the twenty-eighth of June, one thousand six hundred and seventy-eight; which said deed was given by my said father and mother, unto said Abbott and Nason without my consent or approbation, the which has caused a law suit between said Abbott and Nason and myself and for a final issue whereof be it known unto all manner of persons, to whom this instrument or writing shall come, that I, Abraham Lord, the subscriber, hereof for the consideration of that money paid by said Abbott and Nason, as also for the consideration of forty pounds to me in hand paid or secured to be paid by said Thomas Abbott and Sarah Nason, the relict and administratrix of said Jonathan Nason, the which said sum, I, the said Abraham Lord, do hereby acknowledge and myself to be fully satisfied and contented, do for a future assurance of all that tract of land, being about forty acres, only excepting what land my grandfather Conley disposed of to one Peter Witham, being about three acres out of said forty, together with all the great marsh adjoining to said land, being ten acres more or less, and is bounded as in my said father's and mother's, Nathan and Martha Lord deed, under their hands and seals all which land and marsh, I, the said Abraham Lord, do acknowledge and to have bargained and by the present do bargain, sell, alienate and confirm unto the said Thomas Abbott and Sarah Nason, etc.

CHAPTER IV

ANCIENT KITTERY AND SUBSEQUENT SUBDIVISIONS

The description of the territorial limits of ancient Kittery are somewhat vague and its boundaries uncertain. See Sanborn's History of New Hampshire, p. 44, for an account of John Nason's purchase of Georges, of a tract of land three miles in breadth on the northeast side of the Piscataqua river, extending from its mouth to its farthest head, including the saw mill at Newiche-wannock Falls. This purchase was made sometime before Mason's death in 1635.

See Sanborn's History of New Hampshire, chapter XII, for ancient territorial bounds including Kittery, Me. See also pp. 31 and 32.

See Transactions of Maine Historical Society, Vol. IV, 2d series, p. 40. Massachusetts commissioners at the house of William Everett in Kittery. They were Lyman Bradstreet, Sam<sup>1</sup> Symonds. Thomas Wiggin, Bryan Pendleton, November 15, 1652. See also pp. 39, 40, 41. The return of the Massachusetts commissioners to Maine, November 23, 1652, shows that the notice to the inhabitants of Kittery to assemble at the house of William Everett was dated November 15, for the meeting on the 26th instant.

Forty-one residents including Nathan Lord signed the following declaration.

"We whose names are underwritten do acknowledge ourselves subject to the government of Massachusetts Bay, in New England."

In August 1656, seventy-one persons, inhabitants of Saco, Cape Porpoise, Wells, York and Kittery, addressed a petition to Cromwell, praying to be continual under the government of Massachusetts, alleging that they were "a people few in number and those not competent to manage weighty affairs, our weakness occasioning distraction, our paucity division, our meanness contempt." (See Transactions Maine Historical Society, Vol. I, p. 103.)

July 6, 1675. "We present the selectmen of the town of Kittery for not taking care that their children and youth be taught their catechism and education according to law." (See Maine Historical Collections, Vol. 1, p. 380.)

Rev. John Neward was the first pastor of the church in Kittery, serving from 1714 to 1750. Kittery was incorporated in 1653.

Berwick, once a part of Kittery, Me., was incorporated as a separate township in 1713. Both South Berwick and North Berwick were afterwards taken from the territory of the original Berwick. These facts explain many statements in the history of the family of Nathan<sup>1</sup> Lord. South Berwick was taken from Berwick and incorporated in 1814. It is believed that Nathan<sup>1</sup> Lord moved from that part of ancient Kittery which is now Eliot to that which is now South Berwick, about the year 1662, locating at or near a place called Mt. Misery (now Mt. Pleasant,) and that he continued to reside in what is now South Berwick, till his death about 1690.

North Berwick, once a part of ancient Kittery, Me., and later a part of Berwick, Me., was incorporated a separate township in 1831. Some of the descendants of Nathan<sup>1</sup> Lord have been or are located in North Berwick.

The following are abstracts from the Berwick, Me., town records:

Berwick, May 21, 1718. Then measured and laid out to Martha Lord, sixteen acres of land by virtue of a grant to her husband to Nathan Lord, deceased, by the selectmen of the town of Kittery, January 24, 1665.

Berwick, March 5, 1728-9. Then measured and laid out to Nathan Lord, Jr., fifty-eight acres of land, twenty-four acres by virtue of an addition to a lot of land formerly granted to Elizabeth Broughton and purchased by said Lord. The other thirty-four acres being part of a fifty acre grant to himself by the town of Kittery, May 10, 1703, and the said fifty-eight acres lies on the north-westerly side of Elizabeth Broughton's lot, and joins to it, and runs at the same point of compass as that lot doth and it is 264 poles on the S. E. side and 230 on the S. W. side and is bounded on the S. W. by Salmon Falls Little river, and on N. E. end by commons and is 38 poles in breadth, and there are four rods allowed through the breadth of it for a highway. per me WILLIAM CHADBOURNE

The next pastor the Rev. Jeremiah Wise was ordained November, 1707, and died in 1776.

The Rev. Jacob Foster came in 1776, who asked and received a dismission in 1777. The church was without a pastor till 1783, when the Rev. John Thompson was settled. The Rev. Mr. Thompson died in 1828 and during the last three or four years of his life the Rev. George W. Campbell was his colleague. The records of the earlier period of this church are very fragmentary and incomplete.

The Rev. George Lewis, D.D., of South Berwick, Me., under the date of January 28, 1901, writes: "The tract now comprising the towns of Kittery, Eliot and the three Berwicks was at one time all covered by the name Kittery. In 1669, this tract was divided at Sturgeon Creek (I think) into upper and lower parishes, the lower retaining the name of Kittery, while the upper was sometimes called Kittery Commons, but more often Unity Parish. It was a division into parishes. Unity Parish was set off by itself and made into a town, 1713. This was Berwick, or as the old records have it, Barwick. My church records begun in 1702 has on its title page, The Records of the Church of Christ at Barwick. Of course then, in 1702, the name Barwick, or Berwick, as it now is, had overgrown the other name, Parish of Unity.

CHAPTER VI

LOCAL AND PERSONAL HISTORICAL ITEMS

At the first full election in ancient Kittery, the year being 1692, Nathaniel (Nathan?) Lord was chosen constable.

It appears that Nathan<sup>1</sup> Lord in 1662 was or had been for some time a resident of that part of ancient Kittery, which became Eliot. After 1662, it is believed, he moved to a place at or near Mt. Misery (now Mt. Pleasant) in that part of ancient Kittery, which is now South Berwick, Me.

King Philip's War, as it is often called, broke out in 1675. The next year, Nathan<sup>1</sup> Lord and Nathan<sup>2</sup> Lord purchased an estate of seventy-seven acres, including a house and barn, at Old Fields, now in South Berwick, Me., and this fact suggests the cause of the Lord family garrison, which is known to have existed at Old Field, where tradition asserts, Nathan<sup>1</sup> Lord sometime lived.

John Morrill sold an estate, including a field of seven acres to Abraham Conley, in 1676. The same year Conley transferred the same to Nathan<sup>1</sup> and Nathan<sup>2</sup> Lord. In 1681 Nathan<sup>1</sup> Lord relinquished his right, title and interest to Nathan<sup>2</sup> Lord. In 1703 Nathan<sup>2</sup> Lord sold this field of seven acres to Benoni Hodgdon. On this field was once John Morrill's house, assumed to have been later occupied by the Lords. This house is supposed to have been abandoned by the Lords when the Lord garrison was erected. "Hodgdon field" with an ancient cemetery, is still recognized near to the farm of the late Henry W. Lord, at Old Fields, South Berwick, Me.

The site of the Lord garrison is pointed out on the farm of Sedley C. Lord and opposite the premises of the late Henry W. Lord. This garrison is said to have been of elaborate structure, adorned with carvings in wood, a prow of a ship being represented upon its frontal aspect. It had a door that permitted a yoke of oxen and load to enter. This garrison was demolished about the year 1816, by Humphrey Lord who built the present house of Sedley C. Lord nearby.

Among sixteen garrisons reviewed at Newichewannock, Me., by order of the governor in November, 1711, was that of "Mr. Lord." It represented five families, six men, twenty-five souls, but no soldiers. (See Maine History and General Record, Vol. II, p. 114.) Newichewannock appears to have been the Indian name of the territory now embraced in South Berwick, Me.

The family of the late Henry W. Lord, at Old Fields, hold that their present house was built by Robert<sup>6</sup> Lord about 1835. The timbers of the Lord garrison, were in part incorporated into their barn and in part into a barn of Humphrey Lord, who built him a house about 1816. The tradition of the Henry W. Lord family seems to be that the Lord garrison stood till about 1835.

George E. Lord, brother of C. C. Lord, says that his father Charles Lord was born in the Lord garrison in the year 1812, and he remembers hearing his father say that the new house was built with material taken from the old house, when he (Charles) was a small boy, but does not remember that he said that the house was entirely demolished at that time.

Spruce (sometimes called Silver) Creek, a considerable stream of water in Kittery, Me., runs through a valley that was one of the earliest locations settled in ancient Kittery. The home of William Everett, where the Massachusetts commission met in 1652, is said to have been at Spruce Creek. Martha Everett, sister of William Everett, was the first wife of Nathan<sup>1</sup> Lord, who with his wife, Martha Everett, consented to a release of interest in real estate at Spruce Creek in 1674. (See Martha Everett.)

Sturgeon Creek, a stream of water, in the town of Eliot, Me., is a tributary of the Piscataqua river and is intimately connected with the history of Nathan<sup>1</sup> Lord. Sturgeon Creek appears to have given its name to a district of indefinite extent in ancient Kittery.

Rocky Hill, a ridge of hard, rocky land, lying between South Berwick, Me., and York, Me., is of special interest to the family of Nathan<sup>1</sup> Lord so intimately associated historically with Old Fields in South Berwick.

Old Fields is the euphonious name of a district in South Berwick, Me. Old Fields is often mentioned in connection with the history of the family of Nathan<sup>1</sup> Lord. The estate purchased of Abraham Conley by Nathan<sup>1</sup> Lord and Nathan<sup>2</sup> Lord in 1776 is said to have been at Old Fields, where is now the Nathan<sup>2</sup> Lord family cemetery and the family spring, both on the farm of the late Henry W. Lord. Old Fields seems to be a district of uncertain territorial extent. It is said that the first cow ever landed on Maine soil was brought up the Piscataqua river and landed in that part of ancient Kittery called "Old Fields" hence the name.

King William's War, existed from 1689 to 1697. It was during this war or about 1690, that Nathan Lord is believed to have died. The fact that Martha Lord, his widow, took out letters of administration upon his estate in December, 1697, suggest that she waited till the close of the war before taking such action. It also suggests the possibility that Nathan<sup>1</sup> Lord died at the Lord family garrison at Old Fields and was buried in the Lord family cemetery at Old Fields.

CHAPTER VII

PERSONAL AND BIOGRAPHICAL

On June 1st, 1904, C. C. Lord, chairman of the Historical Committee of the Sons and Daughters of Nathan Lord had an interview with Moses Bennet of South Berwick Junction, Me., who said he was in his 77th year, and that he was born at Mt. Pleasant, in South Berwick, on a site opposite the homestead occupied by Herman Goodwin at the time of the interview. Mr. Bennet said that, in his boyhood he was familiar with the traditions of the then older residents of the locality and heard the following traditional facts affirmed:

1. That the Goodwin homestead mentioned was once the home of Nathan Lord.
2. That it was later the home of Martha Everett, his widow.
3. That it was still later the home of Benjamin, the son of Nathan Lord.
4. That in the instance of early colonial wars and the perils of Indians, Nathan Lord resorted to the Lord garrison at Old Fields, in South Berwick, for a cautionary residence. These traditions are understood to relate to the estate, which came into the possession of Martha Everett Lord, by the concession of the sons and sons-in-law of Nathan Lord in 1704, and which she transferred to Benjamin Lord in 1709. This estate is said to have been at Mt. Misery, later called Mt. Pleasant.

In the will of Nathan Lord, 2d, is a mention of the "lands he bought of the Grants." The following in substance is the record of that conveyance: "May 23, 1721. William Grant and Martha, James Grant and Rachel, Daniel and Alexander Grant, John Kye and Grizzell, Joseph Pray and Mary, and Hannah Grant convey to Nathan Lord, 107 acres and 5 acres of marsh, which our father, Peter Grant, bought of James Emery, being part in Berwick (now Eliot) and part in Kittery; the 5 acres of marsh lying west of York Pond," etc.

On the continent for a trip, he met an officer of the English navy who demanded his card on account of a remark relating to Queen Victoria, the discussion having reference to the attitude of the British towards the North. Upon the presentation of the card, the officer returned his and remarked he also bore the name John Lord. Then he noticed Capt. Lord's seal ring and comparing it with his own, observed that each bore the same engraved crest. As a result of this interview and acquaintance, the idea of a duel was immediately suspended.

Tozier Family. Leonard Tosier, Tozer, or Tozier was in Salem, Mass., 1668. Richard, first at Boston, afterwards at Dover, N. H., married daughter of Robert Blott, who died soon after. Richard Tozier returning from captivity, inherited the house and lands of his father, Richard Tozier-Sr., where he lived many years with his wife, Elizabeth, said to be the only daughter of Elder William Wentworth, who is said to have had ten sons, to each of which he gave a portion of land. 1734, fifty-nine years after the death of his father, Richard Tozier, Jr., sold the place to Capt. Samuel Lord, son of Tozier's sister for Abraham Lord, Samuel's son, and a brother of Capt. Ebenezer Lord. Capt. Samuel Lord claimed to reside at Quamphegan and his son at Salmon Falls.

Abraham Lord, married Betsey Davis of Portsmouth, N. H. He made his will in May 1783, and it was proven June 10, following. After his death his widow remained at the Tozier place, with her youngest son, James, who was a minister. Rev. ### Certificate

This may certifie that Lieut. Lord has this day delivered into my hands by order of General Patterson the accounts of the company I had command of in the year 1776 in Col. John Patterson's Regiment whereby the said Lieut. Lord is discharged from being accountable to any officer or soldier for any demand for service in said company and I myself am henceforth accountable to all officers and soldiers belonging to said company for using such demands. Witness my hand August 3d, 1778.

EBENEZER SULLIVAN, CAPT.

Nathan Lord, 5th, was in an "expedition into Canada." With others he was captured near Fort Cedar, near Ticonderoga. He was tied to a tree and torture had begun, but an English officer named James Edwin Park Stanhope interfered, paid a ransom to the Indians, and aided in exchanging him.

In 1791, Captain Lord bought the eighth part of a ship (brigantine) Friendship, which he sailed until its capture by the French. He also sailed the brig Betsey, also taken January 29, 1793. This vessel was owned by himself and Col. Jonathan Hamilton and named after Mrs. Lord. From 1798 to 1801 he sailed the brig Hitty. The principal ports made were, Tobago, Port of Spain, St. Kitts, Trinidad. His brother John had an interest in some of the adventures. In 1807, he settled the business of the schooner Nancy, Capt. William Hovey, who died in the West Indies. Captain Hovey was the betrothed of his wife's sister, Temperance, born August 2, 1775; died April 18, 1860; never married. Captain Lord's family became interested in the French spoliation claims. Under an act of congress, March 18, 1818, his heirs were granted a pension, but some defect made it of no pecuniary value. August 25, 1785, Captain Lord married Elizabeth, daughter of Joseph Brewster, of Berwick. She was born April 6, 1765. She was apparently of the family of John Brewster of Portsmouth, N. H. The children of this marriage were: Elizabeth, born March 1, 1791; Edwin Parks, December 30, 1794; Maria, December 4, 1797. There were also a number of children who died in infancy.

Capt. Nathan Lord died April 3, 1807; his wife, November 17, 1837. He was probably buried at Old Fields in South Berwick, Me., in the Lord family cemetery. Mrs. Lord was buried in the old Somersworth, N. H., meeting house cemetery now called Rollinsford cemetery, where a monument is erected for both the captain and his wife. (See Independent, Salmon Falls N. H., August 12, 1897.)

Arthur Wadsworth Hamilton<sup>s</sup> Eaton. About 1770 Henry Hamilton, born in Scotland in 1747, came to Maine; taught school in Sanford; was at Lexington, it is thought in Capt. Morgan Lewis' company, in the interest of the colonies. In 1780, October 5, he married Eunice Lord, daughter of Jeremiah Lord, she having been baptized July 22, 1761. This Jeremiah Lord was born in 1730, and in 1758 married a widow, the daughter of Peter Grant, and first wife of Gabriel Hamilton. Jeremiah Lord was a son of Capt. In June, 1793, four months after the death of her seventh child, who was Archibald, Eunice (Lord) Hamilton, died, her eldest child, Sarah, being not quite eleven years old. For a time Lucy Lord, an aunt, took care of the children, but in December, 1793, six months after the death of her sister, Lucy too died.

The Hamilton children were: Sarah, Otho, Jeremiah, Henry, Margaret, Simeon, and Archibald. Of these, Sarah, Otho, Henry and Margaret married; Simeon died young, and Archibald died unmarried. Henry, the fourth child, who died in early manhood, married Mary Lord, daughter of Enoch Lord, son of David Lord, the son of Capt. Abraham Lord, and left a daughter, Mary, who became the wife of Isaac Newton Merrill of Tamworth, N. H. Otho Hamilton, a young man, went to Nova Scotia, engaged in business, and in 1813 married Maria Starr, who on her father's side was related to the Willoughby's, and on her mother's to the DeWolf's. Otho and Maria (Starr) Hamilton were the grandparents of the Rev. Arthur Wentworth Hamilton Eaton, a clergyman of the Protestant Episcopal Church in New York City, and whose account of his connection with the Lord family can be found in the Independent, of Salmon Falls, N. H., August 8, 1895.

In 1736, he advocated before the General Court "the granting of a section of York County for the support of our (Berwick) grammar schools."

The Richard Lord named in the following extracts of the town records of Berwick, Me., is Richard the son of the foregoing:

Benjamin<sup>3</sup> (Benjamin<sup>2</sup>, Nathan<sup>1</sup>) Lord is a subject of much genealogical perplexity. In previous pages of this book are found such statements as, when recorded, were believed to be founded on substantial authority. The statements of the family of Benjamin Lord, as here appended, is that of Benjamin<sup>3</sup> Lord as given by the Rev. E. S. Stackpole, D.D., in page 591 of "Old Kittery and Her Families," 1903. On future pages of this book of records, the theory of the Rev. Dr. Stackpole will be adopted till further information compels a change. In the statements of pages 82, 162 and 163, it will be seen that the statement of this page makes a difference of one degree of genealogical descent in cases of numerous persons. The following is the statement of the Rev. Dr. Stackpole:

CHAPTER XIV

LORD ESCUTCHEON ANTIQUITY OF NAME ANCESTRAL BLOOD

Calvin Lord, of Salem, Mass., has an escutcheon, which he believes is that of the original family of Nathan<sup>1</sup> Lord (1652) of ancient Kittery, Me., as well as that of William Lord, of Salem, Mass., Robert Lord, of Ipswich, Mass., and Thomas Lord of Hartford, Ct. The following is the description of this escutcheon: Crest.—Demi bird, wing expanded sable: on its head two small horns or: dexter wing gules; sinister wing argent, lined gules. Arms.—Argent on a fesse gules, between three cinquefoils azure; a hind passant between two pheons or. (Escutcheons bearing pheons are said to be of very ancient origin. Ed.)

Mr. Calvin Lord cites the following authorities in support of his theory: "Heraldic Journald," Vol. 1. p. 43. "Salisbury Memorials." See Bernard Burke's "General Armory of England," 1883. "The Book of Crests." Vol. 2. p. 279. "Hyde Genealogy" 1864.

Mrs. Ellen Lord Burditt, 42 Mill St., Dorchester, Mass., has an escutcheon of the Lord family which bears the following designation. Crest.—A dexter arm, hand clenched, proper in a mound azure. Arms.—Argent on a fesse, between three cinquefoils: two pheons of the field. On the pendant of this escutcheon is this motto:—In via virtuti nulla est via. The word "Lord" is also on the bottom of this escutcheon.

At the ninth annual reunion of the Sons and Daughters of Nathan Lord, at Berwick, Me., August 6, 1903, Capt. John Clement Lord, in his annual address, reported the following description of an escutcheon: "He beareth azure; a half moon between three lions heads; ecressed: or. By the name of Lord. These arms quartered and granted on 20th February, in the 8th year of King James the First (which would be in 1611) to Sir Robert Lord of Brille, in the county of Bucke, Bart." "Boston, April 2, 1798. A true copy attest: Jno. Cotes, Heraldry Painter."

Thomas Lord came to America in 1635 and settled in Hartford, Ct. He died intestate about 1667, but his wife who died about two years later left a will which she sealed with the seal of her late husband. It is said that the memorial bearing thereon depicted correspond exactly with the arms of De Laward, as given in English heraldry, thus showing that the family was of Norman origin as early as 1388. Some of the genealogies say that the name is sometimes spelled Lawd. Thomas Lord came directly from London. Letter of William H. Lord, Burnt Hills, N. Y., May 15, 1902.

Lord Antiquity of Name

The following is from an English work, a history of the Norman people, and a dictionary of names belonging to the country in olden times: LORD: Osmond de Lavorde, Normandy, 1180, (M.* R. S.)— John Le Lavorde, Engl. c. 1272. (R. H.)* “William Le Lavorde” is mentioned in English History as of Shelf hange Manor, connected with St. Edmunds Abbey, at Bury in time having reference to William the Conqueror: again, “Winfarthing Tenement, one half was held by John Le Lord, 1500.”

H.; died April 8, 1832, and was buried on Hussey farm at North Berwick, Me., on a knoll selected by himself, on the home place of Mary (Wentworth) Hussey, his wife's daughter. Rev. Nathaniel<sup>5</sup> Lord was a Freewill Baptist, baptized at Great Works, in South Berwick, Me.; ordained over the church in Wells, Me., 1780; organized church at North Berwick, Me., in "Elder Lord's meeting-house" May 31, 1804, there being 55 members; retired from the ministry, August 30, 1831.

"Elder Lord's meeting house" was built, November, 1781, so far as can be determined, and the sill was laid by compass to comport with an old range line. This house eventually was used as a town hall and was the place of town meeting as late as 1877.

Rev. Charles Eliphalet<sup>7</sup> (John Perkins<sup>6</sup>, John<sup>5</sup>, Nathan<sup>4</sup>, Samuel<sup>3</sup>, Nathan<sup>2</sup>, Nathan<sup>1</sup>) Lord was born in Porstmouth, N. H., February 11, 1817. He fitted for college at South Berwick, Me., and Andover, Mass; graduated at Dartmouth; taught a year in South Berwick Academy; taught two years in Kingston (N. C.), Academy; studied theology two years in New York and New Haven theological seminaries; was pastor of Presbyterian Church, Miles, Mich., three years; same church at Evansville, Ind., one year; afterwards at South Newmarket, N. H., West Brooke, Me., Mt. Vernon, N. H., Easton, Mass., Chester, Vt., and Beverly, Mass. He was at one time professor of the evidences of Christianity and church history at Talmage's lay college at Brooklyn, N. Y., and at another, lecturer at the lay college at Revere, Mass. He received the degree of Doctor of Divinity by the Wesleyan University of East Tennessee in 1873. He was the author of "National Theology" and other works.

About twenty years before his death, he became a resident of Newburyport, Mass., where he died, February 19, 1902. For ten years before his death he devoted himself to Hope Chapel at Salisbury Beach. In August, 1901, he delivered an address before the Seventh Annual Reunion of the Sons and Daughters of Nathan Lord, at Central Park, Dover, N. H. See Abram T.<sup>7</sup> Lord.

Testimony of Thomas Goodwin, 1775, and Eliz. Gray

Thomas Goodwin, of Berwick, Me., gentleman, aged 58 years, testifies that about 26 years since, he was at the home of the Rev. Mr. Emerson, a minister of Portsmouth, and there saw Rich<sup>d</sup>. Lord, Jr., late of Berwick, eldest son of Capt. Rich<sup>d</sup>. Lord, of Berwick, deceased, joined in marriage with Mary Goodwin (the now wife of Mr. John Cooper, Jr., of the same Berwick) and the said Rich<sup>d</sup>. Lord, Jr., and Mary Goodwin lived together five or six years as man and wife, and had three children, two sons and one daughter; two sons are dead and the daughter, youngest of the three, is now the wife of Jona Abbott, Jr., of Berwick. Said Thomas Goodwin was a near neighbor to Capt. Rich<sup>d</sup>. Lord, Jr., all his life and his two sons died young.

Eliz. Gray testified to the above, adding that the eldest child of Capt. Rich<sup>d</sup>. Lord, was a daughter, who died very young, and that Rich<sup>d</sup>. Jr., was always called the eldest child. That the first child of Rich<sup>d</sup>. Jr., was called Daniel, the second Richard, and that both died young and unmarried.

The foregoing testimonies are from the York Co., Me., Probate Records, at Alfred, in Vol. 9-34. The date of the statements is October 21, 1755. Thomas Goodwin appears to have been a brother of Mary, wife of Rich<sup>d</sup>. Lord. Thomas Goodwin is said to have been born July 12, 1697.

Statement of Rev. John Heard Lord

Rev. John Heard Lord, of Berwick, Me., writing from London, Eng., to the Biddeford, Me., Journal, under the date of August 15, 1901, says that there has found the family register of Nathan Lord, father of Nathan<sup>1</sup> Lord, of ancient Kittery, Me., and that Nathan<sup>1</sup> Lord's mother, Anne, a widow, married Abraham Conley. The first wife of Nathan<sup>1</sup> Lord was a daughter of Abraham Conley by a wife antecedent to Anne Lord.

Statement of Humphrey Lord

Humphrey<sup>5</sup> (David<sup>4</sup>, Abraham<sup>4</sup>, Nathan<sup>2</sup>, Nathan<sup>1</sup>) Lord of Old Fields, South Berwick, Me., said that the Lord estate on which he resided was never alienated from the family after the first settler took possession. He further asserted, that the original grant, or transfer, to the Lords was not entered upon the county records,—a consideration of the transaction in realty by John Morrill, Abraham Conley, Nathan<sup>1</sup> Lord and Nathan<sup>2</sup> Lord at Old Fields tends to substantially confirm the statement of Humphrey<sup>5</sup> Lord. Of 77 acres owned by John Morrill, 70 were the result of grants by the town of Kittery.

October 22, 1701, Nathan<sup>2</sup> Lord was appointed one of a committee with Capt. Ichabod Plaisted, Richard Tozier, John Hill, Thomas Abbott, R. Nason, Charles Frost, Humphrey Spencer, and Benoni Hodgdon, for the building of a new meeting house. In 1716 he was selectman. In 1719 he was of a committee to agree with William Bradstreet as schoolmaster for one year. In 1720 he was chairman of the selectmen and of a committee of eleven to demand the money due from Kittery on account of Wells reaching in upon the township of Berwick.

In 1721 he was a committee with Humphrey Chadbourne, and Philip Hubbard for letting out upon interest £240..15..0.. (probably money received from Kittery).

1. He gave to his wife, Phebe, the use of one half of his dwelling house and homestead lands during her widowhood, but if she married again, then only one third; also one half of his household goods during life, then to be divided between his four daughters; also two cows, four sheep, two swine, and sufficient firewood to be cut from her lot by his sons, Humphrey and Edmund; also his riding horse.

2. To his son, Enoch, one dollar, having done something for him before.

3. To his daughter, Shuah Neal, two dollars.

his land and buildings in Berwick; to Humphrey, two thirds of his stock of cattle and farming tools, and to Edmund one third except what had already been disposed of.

8. He directed his two sons to pay his just debts, and funeral expenses, and the legacies in this will and appointed them his executors.

The witnesses of this will were Joshua Lord and Jeremiah Lord, brothers of the testator, and John Hill supposed to be Deacon Hill of Great Works, who probably wrote the will.

7. To his sons, Joshua and Jeremiah, in equal halves the lands and buildings on the Sth side of the way by his (Abr<sup>ms</sup>) house, which he (Abr<sup>m</sup>) bought of his brother, Nathan, late deceased; also two thirds of the wood lot and marsh at York Pond (?), they to provide for their mother during her life two third parts of her firewood; also two third parts of his (Abr<sup>ms</sup>) interest in the thatch bed called the Fowling Marsh in Berwick.

his woodland and marsh at York, and one third part of his interest in the Fowling Marsh, he providing for his mother one third part of her firewood and performing other things hereafter ordered; also his negro man, Chance.

9. To his son, Elisha, all the land at Cranberry Meadow, where he now dwells, joining to land heretofore Moses Butler's (?) the highway leading through the same and about forty acres above Little River, joining the river and west to the intervalle line, it being what I own in a common right lot.

10. To his son, Solomon, a bed and furniture and "my wearing apparel," he to be provided for out of the homestead equally with Joshua, Jeremiah and David.

11. To his son, Joshua, one half of his household goods.

12. To his two grandsons, Joseph and Abraham Hanson, each twenty shillings, L. m'y, when they shall arrive at 21 years of age.

NOTES BY THE EDITOR

Ancient manner of computing time.

It may be interesting to some of the young readers of this book to know why some of the transactions of our early ancestors herein recorded are dated in what is now known as "old style."

Previous to 1752 the year began on March 24. During the months of January, February and the first 24 days of March it was sometimes customary to write the year with a double number, January 24th, 1671, for instance would be written, January 24th 167 $\frac{1}{2}$  or 167 1-2, indicating January following December, 1671. On March 25, and thereafter, until January, the figure 1 would be dropped and the figure 2 would take its place. In 1751 the English Parliament passed an act changing the manner of computing time to take effect September, 1752. To correct previous error the time was brought forward eleven days by calling the 3rd of September the 14th; and the year was made to begin January first.

Owning the Covenant

In the record of Lords that were members of the church in "Unity Parish" or Parrish of Unity it is seen that certain members "owned the covenant." It certainly would not be good logic to confuse the word "owned" with the idea that they possessed something; but that they admitted or confessed to the truth of the articles of Christian faith as expressed in the creed of their church. By the word "covenant" we understand a "mutual agreement or compact between the members of the church to maintain its faith, discipline, etc."

OBITUARY NOTICES

Charles Chase Lord

Charles Chase Lord died on Sunday at the home of his brother, George E. Lord, on Putney's Hill, Hopkinton, at the age of 69, after an illness of long duration.

Mr. Lord was born in South Berwick, Me., on July 7, 1841, the son of Charles and Sarah (Hubbard) Lord, of Hopkinton, N. H., and studied for the ministry at the Methodist Biblical Institute in this city, later however, embracing the Swedenborgian faith.

He had for many years lived in Hopkinton and was one of that town's best known citizens. His reputation as a writer was state wide. He was long a press correspondent, serving various papers and news agencies and was, in length of service, the oldest contributor of the Monitor and Statesman. Notable contributions were the political letters published under the title, "Uncle Siah's Papers." He was the author of "Life and Times in Hopkinton," "Lookout," "Poems of Penacook," "Mary Woodwell," and other works, and his historical, biographical, reminiscent sketches and poems in the Granite Monthly were long among the best features of that magazine. He was the founder of the Sons and Daughters of Nathan Lord and for years served that organization as secretary and chairman of the historical committee.

Mr. Lord was a man who will be greatly missed, not only for his facile and pleasing pen, but for his engaging personality.—Concord Monitor.

Jedediah Lord of Old Fields, Me.

Passed on to his spirit home, in South Berwick, January 25, 1901 Jedediah Lord aged 87 years. Another old landmark has been removed from out our sight. We think it eminently fitting, as also a heartfelt duty, to pause long enough to utter some word in praise of his character. The subject of this notice always lived a quiet, unobtrusive life in the home where he was born, and always was a tiller of the soil. Although of an uncommon, retiring disposition, having no desire for the clash of public life, yet we who were blessed with his acquaintance should not forget his peculiar virtues, which all of us would do well to strive and emulate. His strict sense of justice, truth and right which never forsook him, was a trait which many might covet, who profess higher and better things. He was one of the keenest observers of everything found in nature and although it would have been difficult to sound his depths yet we feel assured that he looked from nature up to nature's God. His deep interest in all animal and vegetable life was something surprising to ordinary minds. Little trifling things that most of us would pass unheeded by, he could stop and make a study of, and find pleasure and enjoyment where we could find none. His intuitive knowledge of the habits of animals and their diseases, and of the proper healing remedies, if it had been combined with a suitable education, would have made him one of the leading veterinary surgeons in the land. But unfortunately book learning was denied him. His faith in the problem of life here and hereafter, was heralded by no trumpet tones, but we know if we could be inbued with his spirit we might have the supreme satisfaction of knowing that we had a better world to live in. Our friend was possessed of a heart and soul large enough to grasp the whole world in his embrace. No idle profession was his, and yet we know that he could fervently respond to that beautiful saying, "peace on earth and good will toward men." Faithfully he fulfilled his appointed missions, and truly it can be said of him "he lived in peace with all mankind."

Benjamin M. Lord

After an illness of about 12 days, Benjamin M. Lord, well-known throughout the state as inspector and special agent for the Hartford Boiler Inspection and Insurance Company, died at his home, 138 Messer Street, Providence, Saturday October 20, 1906. Mr. Lord was born 75 years ago in Kennebunkport, and was the son of Abram and Edna Lord. He received his early education in his native town and gave much of his attention to machinery and boilers. When he went to Rhode Island in 1856 he was engineer and mechanic with a sawmill crew which was working in West Greenwich. It was there he met and married Miss Phoebe Tillinghast, who died six years ago last May. He was engineer at Henry Clark's wood yard up to the time that place was burned out and his next employment was with the Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection and Insurance Company as inspector. He continued in that capacity for 22 years, and since then has been a special agent.

Mr. Lord was taken sick last August and had been in poor health ever since. He was not connected with secret societies, but was a member of the Cranston Street Baptist Church. His daughter, Mrs. J. Russell, and four grandchildren survive him.

Mr. Lord was a brother of the late Captain J. O. Lord and was here several years before going to Rhode Island, at work in the Water Power Company.

He has visited here every year until failing health prevented him. His many friends will be sorry to hear of his death.

John H. Lord

John H. Lord passed away at the Highland Sanitarium yesterday, where he had been undergoing treatment, aged 61 years, 5 months and 15 days. He had been in feeble health for a couple of years, and suffered from a complication of diseases, but was able to be out part of the time. He was a native of Somersworth and resided here all his life. He entered the employ of the Great Falls Manufacturing Company when a young man and worked in the cloth room until a few years ago when he was obliged to give up, on account of sickness. He was a genial, whole souled man, a good citizen, who had a multitude of friends. He was prominent in fraternal and social circles, being a member of Libanus Lodge, A. F. and A. M., Edwards Chapter, R. A. M., St. Paul Commandery, K. T., of Dover, Washington Lodge, No. 4, I. O. O. F., Great Falls Encampment, Canton Parker, P. M., of Dover, Martha Washington Rebekah Lodge, Prospect Lodge, K. of P., and Endowment Rank of the K. of P. For many years he was Keeper of Records and Seal of Prospect Lodge. He was also Scribe of the local I. O. O. F. Encampment for a number of years. A widow and one son, Fred, of Cambridge, Mass., survive him. The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at his late residence, High Street, and interment will be in the family burial lot, Forest Glade Cemetery. Aug. 16.

Ralph W. Lord

Years Ago was Engaged in the Fancy Grocery Business on Main Street

Ralph W. Lord died at his home on Main Street Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock of heart failure, aged 81 years. He is survived by a widow, two daughters, Elizabeth E. Lord and Mrs. Loren E. Johnson of this city and one brother, Geo. S. Lord of Wells. Private funeral services conducted by Rev. Edwin S. Chase of Kennebunkport were held at the home, 301 Main Street, this afternoon at 2.30 and the interment will be at Wells at the convenience of the family.

Mr. Lord was born in Wells and came to this city in 1861 and for 13 years he was engaged in the fancy grocery business at 88 Main Street, now occupied as a millinery store by Mrs. J. H. Roussin. He was a high principled man of quiet, retiring disposition and while taking no active part in politics had always been a Democrat.—Biddeford (Me.) Record July 10, 1905.

Dr. John Lord

Dr. John Lord, who since 1881, has been one of the most prominent citizens and physicians of Biddeford, died suddenly at his home on Main Street at one o'clock Wednesday morning.

Death was due to a shock and the end ensued within an hour after the attack.

Shortly before midnight Dr. Lord grew suddenly ill and passed into a semi-conscious condition. Dr. C. J. Emery, who, with Dr. J. D. Cochrane of Saco, has been attending him, was summoned to his bedside.

Dr. Emery found that Dr. Lord had suffered a shock and while realizing that his condition was serious did not apprehend that death was very near at hand.

The patient was able to recognize those about him and when spoken to would open his eyes. He was unable to speak, however.

During the next hour he sank rapidly and shortly before the end came sank into a peaceful sleep, passing away without the least sign of pain.

Dr. Lord has been failing in health for a long time although able to attend to his practice and official duties until up to about a year ago. In April of last year he was prostrated by a shock and it was several weeks before he was able to get out of doors. He never fully recovered from the effects of the attack and was compelled to give up his medical practice. At intervals he seemed stronger and during the summer was able to get out on the street and with the use of a cane walk down town occasionally.

Since the cold weather came on Dr. Lord was seen out of doors less frequently, but within a few weeks he was able to be out for a short time and even came down town to attend to a little item of business.

It was generally known that he was feeble and probably few anticipated that he would ever regain his health again. But nobody expected such a sudden demise and when it became known about the city this forenoon that he was no more surprise was evident on the faces of all his acquaintances.

Dr. Lord was born in Porter, Oxford County, June 25, 1843, and was named for his father.

His paternal grandfather, Levi Lord, was born in Berwick, whence he removed to Oxford County, making a home first in Hiram and later in Porter. He was in Portland in the war of 1812 at the time of the capture of the British brig in the harbor. He was for a long time engaged in lumbering, but later settled on a farm and gave his attention to agriculture. He and his wife, Abigail Durgin, who was a native of Newfield, were the parents of seven children who grew to maturity.

John, the second child was born in Porter in 1810. He became a lumberman and followed his occupation with his father till his death at the age of 38 years. He and his wife, Mary Gould, daughter of Bartholomew Gould of Parsonsfield, reared three children, two sons and a daughter.

John, the younger, of the two sons of John Lord, Sr., acquired his elementary education in the common schools near home and then fitted for college at Kents Hill Seminary and Fryeburg Academy.

The breaking out of the Civil War spoiled his plans for attending college. Instead of profiting by the facilities for liberal culture at Bowdoin College, which he had intended to enter, he enlisted in September, 1862, for the defense of the Union in Company K, 21st Maine Regiment.

He served some time as sergeant and later as steward and on receiving his discharge about ten months later, at once entered the hospitals at Washington as an attendant. His experience in this branch of the service decided his future career.

On leaving the hospital service in the latter part of 1864 he went into the office of Dr. Jesse P. Sweat the regimental surgeon of the 23rd regiment in Brownfield and pursued the study of medicine and surgery until 1866. In that year he passed his examination and received the degree of doctor of medicine at Bowdoin.

Dr. Lord shortly afterwards established himself for practice at Limington where he remained until 1873. In that year, accompanied by his wife, Helen Dimmock, whom he had wedded in Limington, he went to California and opening an office at Weaverville, Trinity County, there engaged in the duties of his profession for eight years. During four of these years he had charge of the county infirmary and for several years he was on the county board of education.

Dr. Lord returned to Maine in December, 1880, and settled in Biddeford in the spring of 1881.

During his residence in Biddeford, Dr. Lord was actively identified with the professional and civic life of the community. He took a broad interest in all that concerned the political, social and religious welfare of the city and much of his time was devoted to furthering the success of the ends sought for through these several channels.

Personally he was a man of dignified bearing, but kindly nature. Of the strictest probity and integrity, he was unassuming in his manners. Always amiable he was well liked by all who knew him and for years he was the trusted medical adviser in many of the best local families. His death is an important break in the ranks of the men who have been prominent in Biddeford for the past quarter of a century and he will be sincerely mourned by a great many.

Dr. Lord is survived by his wife and three sons. The sons are Lieutenant Charles E. D., assistant surgeon in the United States marine hospital service at Galveston, Texas; Harry D., attending the textile school and a machinist at Lowell, Mass., and Philip, a student at Guilford College, N. C.

His mother, who last year observed the 90th anniversary of her birth, is still living in Porter and also his sister Mrs. Mary A. Stacy of Porter, and his brother, Frank Lord of Kezar Falls.

Dr. Lord was president of the Maine board of registration for medicine, and for the past ten years has been a member of the United States board of pension examiners. He was also examining surgeon for half a dozen insurance organizations in Biddeford, both commercial and fraternal.

Dr. Lord was greatly interested in the First Universalist church where he had been a constant attendant for many years. Up to within a few months he was one of the trustees of the Church.

Mr. Lord was a Mason and belonged to Greenleaf Lodge and the Chapter of Royal Arch Masons at Cornish. He was a member of Bradford commandery, Knights Templar, of this city. As an Odd Fellow he was a member of Laconia Lodge of this city and as a Grand Army veteran belonged to Sheridan post.

In politics Dr. Lord was a Republican and has been closely identified with the party in Biddeford. Three times he was its candidate for mayor, although unsuccessful each time. In 1889 he ran against Charles F. Goodwin and in 1891 and 1892 was opposed to Edward W. Staples.

He was for three years a member of the school board and in 1895 and 1896 was its chairman. He was city physician for two years under Mayor Carlos Heard and later was a member of the board of health, his term of office in that capacity expiring last spring.

Henry C. Lord

Henry C. Lord, a native of Alfred, Me., who lived for a number of years in Marietta, Ohio, died in Alfred, Me., October 21, 1908, at the age of 50 years. He was interested in oil properties in the West and is said to have accumulated a fortune estimated at a quarter of a million of dollars in the last six or seven years. He is survived by a mother, wife and three children.

Augustus Lord

In the death of Augustus Lord which occurred July 8, 1907, Saco suffers the loss of another of her sturdy, solid and worthy citizens, among whom death has made steady inroads in recent years.

Mr. Lord has been in feeble and failing health for some time, his decline really dating from the death of his daughter, whom he idolized, a few years ago. On June 10, he was prostrated by an attack which, while it resembled a shock, was not attended by any paralysis and his condition since has given but little hope of recovery. He had previously suffered a similar though less serious attack and had for some time prior to his fatal sickness been unable to leave the house. His decline has been gradual and his death was not a surprise to those who had known of his condition.

Deceased leaves a widow, Mrs. Lydia A. Lord, and one brother, Hon. Samuel L. Lord and upon these his death falls as a heavy blow, following so closely upon other recent bereavements. The funeral will be Wednesday at 2.30 p. m. from his home.

Augustus Lord was born in Buxton, June 8, 1835 and was therefore, 72 years and one month of age. He was the son of Ephraim and Hannah Lowell Lord and received his education in the schools of his native town. When a young man, early in the fifties, he came to Saco and entered the employ of his uncle, the late Moses Lowell, and learned the tinsmith trade and continued for years in the employ of Mr. Lowell, except for a brief time when he was in business on his own account. Upon the death of his uncle he entered partnership with Hon. Enoch Lowell and this firm continued in business upon Pepperell Square until about ten years ago when it was dissolved and since then Mr. Lord had been engaged in no business.

In 1861 Mr. Lord was appointed a deputy sheriff but on account of business he did not serve his term out. In 1871 he served the city government under Mayor Oliver Dyer and was the next year elected chief engineer of the fire department and served at that position continuously up to 1885. He was re-elected in 1887 and continued at the head of the department until 1871. He had been an assistant engineer from 1868 to 1871.

He was a most competent head of the fire department and under his administration it maintained a high efficiency. He was a good workman and an honorable upright business man. He always enjoyed the esteem of his townsmen and deservedly so for he was in all respects a good citizen and a good friend. He was a member of Saco Lodge of Masons and in politics was a Republican, though liberal and tolerant in his political views.

Augustus Lord's brother John H., died February 10, 1907 aged 67 years, 10 months, 10 days.

Hon. Samuel L. Lord

Hon. Samuel L. Lord, son of Ephraim H. and Hannah (Lowell) Lord, died at his home, 30 Pleasant St., Saco, Me., January 2, 1911.

Among the men prominent in Saco's business and political life none was more widely known than was Mr. Lord. He was born in Buxton, January 4, 1841, and moved to Saco when 13 years old. His ancestry on the paternal side can be traced back to 1652, the line of descent being, Nathan Lord, Kittery, 1652; Nathan, of Berwick, 1655; 1733, Captain Abraham, Berwick, Abraham, of Scarboro; Nathaniel, of Scarboro and Buxton; Isaac, of Buxton, and Ephraim H. Lord of Buxton and Scarboro, his father. His early education was obtained as a student at the old brick schoolhouse at Salmon Falls, Buxton, and later he attended the grammar school at Saco, under Moses J. Haines, until the spring of 1856. In June of that year he went to learn the apothecary business with Tristram Gilman, where he remained until the spring of 1858 when Mr. Gilman and Dr. John E. L. Kimball formed a partnership and bought the drug store formerly conducted by Dr. Charles Murch. He was in the employ of this firm until June, 1859, when the firm dissolved and he again worked for Mr. Gilman at the old stand. Mr. Gilman sold out to Stephen F. Shaw in May, 1860, but Mr. Lord remained in Mr. Shaw's employ most of the time until 1869, when Augustus Sawyer took the store, still retaining the services of Mr. Lord. Mr. Sawyer died in December of that year and the stock was sold to Warren C. Bryant of Biddeford. Mr. Lord acted as agent for Mr. Bryant until 1873, when the store was destroyed by fire. He then went into Rochester, N. H., and entered the employ of Stephen F. Shaw. He remained there, however, only a short time and in July, 1874, came to Saco and opened a drug store of his own on Factory Island, September 10.

Mr. Lord cast his first vote with the Republican party and voted for Lincoln and Grant. In 1872 he voted for Horace Greeley and had been identified with the Democratic party ever since. He was elected alderman from ward 6 in 1876, but in 1877 was defeated for that office. In 1877 he was also a candidate for representative to the legislature and defeated. In 1878 and 1879 he was candidate for mayor, being defeated both times.

Mr. Lord was chosen a member of the Democratic city committee in 1877 and made chairman. In 1876 the Tilden club was formed in Saco and he was made its president. In 1878 he was chosen a member of the Democratic county committee and became its secretary and treasurer. He was chosen chairman of the committee in 1879. In 1880 he was again chosen a member of two years and served as chairman. In this year he was again candidate for alderman in ward 6 and was defeated. He was again defeated for mayor in 1882. In 1884 he was alderman from ward 6 and was re-elected in 1885. He was a candidate for state senator in 1882 and suffered defeat. In 1884 he was chosen a member of the First district congressional committee. He was a candidate for the office of postmaster of Saco in 1886, but did not receive the appointment. He resigned as a member of the congressional committee in April, 1886, and in the June following resigned as a member of the Democratic city committee, of which he had been chairman during his membership of nine years.

He was appointed a member of the Saco registration board to represent the minority party by Mayor Enoch Lowell, in May, 1891, for a term of two years, which office he resigned March 26, 1892. In 1888 he was a candidate for presidential elector on the Cleveland and Thurman ticket. May 1, 1893, he was again appointed a member of the Saco board of registration and held the office until 1896, when he resigned to become a candidate for mayor. He was elected mayor of Saco in 1896 and re-elected in 1897 and 1898. In 1896 he was the Democratic candidate for sheriff and was defeated. He was the Democratic candidate for governor in 1898 and with the rest of the ticket defeated; was candidate for U. S. senator in 1899 and received the Democratic vote of the members of the legislature. Republicans and Democrats alike recognized in Mr. Lord the sterling qualities of a representative citizen. He was without doubt one of the foremost and most popular men of the Democratic party of the state. He ever held the confidence of his townsmen and in all contests where he was engaged never failed to poll a larger vote than the numerical strength of his party would warrant. His valuable service to the city has ever been recognized. He was first to originate and claim that the city should bear the entire expense of building sidewalks and had advocated and had adopted many other popular improvements.

About 1898 Mr. Lord again became a member and chairman of the Democratic city committee, holding the position until February 8, 1910 when he resigned. At the Democratic caucus in city hall on the evening of February 17, 1910, special action was taken by the caucus by way of testimonial to Mr. Lord for his long, faithful and efficient service to his party. He was absent for the first time in many years and after several speeches, reviewing his career and services, a rising vote of thanks was passed. All present, regardless of party affiliations, took part in this vote. Mr. Lord was held in the highest esteem by his political opponents and by every man, woman and child in the city, who had the honor of his acquaintance.

At the time of the organization of the Citizens' movement in Saco in 1901, Mr. Lord joined it and was elected city treasurer, representing the Democratic wing of the party. He held this office two years and in 1905 was chosen a member of the board of assessors. In 1906 he was elected a member of the board of assessors for a three year term, under the provisions of a law just passed. At the conclusion of his three year term as assessor he retired from the public service.

Pages could be written concerning Mr. Lord's life and character. Years ago he became known as "Honest Sam" and well deserved the title. No man was more particular in his transactions with his fellow men than Mr. Lord, who was correct to the last degree and the last penny. In his public life every department with which he was connected received his most careful attention. He was a painstaking observer of all the legal forms and requirements and in addition to giving the public service as careful attention as he gave his own business he aimed to have everything done absolutely right. He had the confidence and respect of all who knew him, in a very remarkable degree.

For many years, Mr. Lord's drug store on Factory Island was a meeting place of young men over whose acts, discussions and deliberations he presided with paternal care and foresight. He was their court of last resort, a loved and respected czar, whose word was law and final. His back shop became famous. It was a headquarters for political news and thought, for sporting news and for everything that was of interest to the community. Many famous visitors have been within its precincts, men who have been honored in many ways and places.

The Saco boys who have become men and have scattered to various parts of the world, who grew up as one of "Sam's boys," as they were familiarly known, will hear of his demise with sincere sorrow, though in the nature of things it was to be expected. His memory will be cherished by a great many to whom he was an ideal character, by men who have governed many of their own actions by the criterion of whether or not Mr. Lord would have approved them.

Kindness of heart and manner was a distinguishing characteristic of Mr. Lord. His advice and sympathy were frequently sought by the discouraged and those in trouble and freely given. His familiar figure will be greatly missed from Main street, Saco, over which for years he passed to and from his home and store with a regularity that was exact. His habits were so methodical that he varied scarcely a minute in the times at which he did every day's duty and task.

A gentleman of the old school, a type of a time that has passed, Mr. Lord, as a figure, will linger long in the affectionate memory of his fellow townmen.

Mr. Lord is survived by no near relatives. Besides his father and mother, his immediate family consisted of himself and three brothers, Augustus, Ira and John, the last of whom to die. Augustus, died in Saco July 8, 1907.

Albion K. P. Lord

Albion K. P. Lord, a prominent citizen of West Buxton and widely known as one of a group of men who conducted extensive lumbering operations in the Saco valley, died at his home in this town July 12, 1906, after a lingering illness. Mr. Lord was over 80 years of age and is survived by one daughter, Mrs. F. H. Hargraves besides numerous other relatives.

For many years he was one of the leading business men of New England, owning and operating large sawmills at West Buxton, where he also conducted a general store. The prosperity which the village has enjoyed is due in no small measure to the untiring efforts of Mr. Lord, and at one time he employed a large number of men in his mills and on the drives which were floated down the Saco from all points.

He was born in Parsonsfield and was the son of George W. and Sarah (Swett) Lord, his mother being a sister of Dr. Moses Swett, an old time physician who was famous as a "bone setter." When he was one year of age, Mr. Lord's parents moved to West Buxton and his father was for many years a leading lumberman in this section. When he died the son took charge of the business and conducted it in such a manner that it rapidly assumed large proportions. He married Miss Sarah Dunn and they had three daughters.

During his business career, Mr. Lord built a large brick block at West Buxton, together with sawmills, a large brick house near the Baptist church and a two story wooden dwelling near the brick house.

Mr. Lord retired from business a few years ago and has resided since with the family of Hon. F. H. Hargraves. He will be greatly missed in the community where he has resided and done so much for its business interests.
